Could love have held thee from the touch of death Immortal life on earth would sure be thine, But strongest love could not turn back the tide Which flows resistless on, towards the Divine.

Why do we weep for thee?

Eternal life and joy are thine at last;
All earthy care and pain are at an end;
The last cup drained, the dark stream passe And what is death? 'tis but a vanished breath; A moment's pause and time and earth are far

Has led thee on to endless day. To know how we shall miss thee day by day; And yet thy precepts we will keep, Thy counsels hold, to guide us on our earthly

With Heaven's clear light upon thy brow The shining streets thy feet have trod, And pure as winter's drifted snow Thou did'st not fear to meet thy God.

Our Brother.

Died, on board the Steam Ship, Laneaster, Aug. 1, 1865. Buried at Acapulco, Mexico. Where restless waters sing their sweetest lullaby, Where deep, dark waves roll on with foaming Where snowy coral gleams through falling spray,

They laid thee down to long and dreamless rest Nodreary silence rests upon thy rock bound tomb For over billows, stretching far and wide, voice of sounding seas from far-off stormy shores, Blends with the mighty bass of never ceasing

And songs of birds from dreamy isles, Which slumber on the troubled deep, Enwrapped in robes of pale blue mist Their solemn trust, unbroken keep. And still as changing years shall roll Their tides into oblivion's sea, Those lonely isles so bright and fair, Their sacred watch shall keep by thee.

No loving hand can plant bright flowers upon th resting place,
But sweet wild flowers of richest southern bloom
With fragrant shrubs and flowering vines
Weep dewy incense on thy far off tomb. Then roll on thou mighty billow
Fling o'er his tomb the gleaming spray
Sing ye winds around his lonely pillow
Till morn shall open an eternal day.

Incidents of a Four Years' Voyage in Search of the Sperm Whale.

in New Bedford, I shipped on the whaling barque, Three Brothers, bound for a four years cruise in the South Pacific and Australian waters, in search of the sperm whale. We went on board the 12th day of Octeber, 1869, about 8 o'clock in the forenoon; and after the usual hand-shaking and leave-taking that must naturally occur at such a time as this, were gone through with, the decks were cleared of all runners, shipping agents &c., by the demand of the impatient old pilot, who

It was given very soon by the hoarse command of the first mate as mounting the raised deck called, he prepared to superintend the cheerfully acquiesced in by the willing crew, who shared somewhat of the same pirit as the pilot, by springing into the sails and top gallant sails. These were speedily relieved from their fastenings or gasket and hung in graceful festoons from the yards. In the meantime the bars of the windlass were manned by willing hands; and soon could be heard the cheerful song rising high above the measured clank of the pauls, as the cable was slowly drawn in through the hawse-pipes calling me cousin Kate, as I was very and wound around the barrel of the distantly related to him on his mother's windlass. Very soon the anchor hove in sight, which was duly announced by the "'Can't you bring mother to listen to the first mate, as: "Anchor's away, sir!" reason? he wrote. But to return to my story. The ship being now fully under way, the pilot and owners soon left us after bidding good bye to the captain and his lady, wishing them a pleasant and successful voyage Immediately after all hands were called aft, and we were each picked out for our separate watches. I will not go into particulars about a ship's watches, but will simply state that there are two. First, the starboard or captain's watch, trust more in Providence. You will see and the port or first mate's watch. The men that had been to sea before were first called out, and I, being one of the first on the list, was nominated for the starboard watch, bow oarsman, starboard boat. The rest of the men were then "Can you pull?" or "Were you ever in a boat in your life?" or "Is the hay seed impatiently for further news. A week all out of you hair yet? because, if it

He was a native of Cape Cod, Mass., was a capital whaleman, a good sailor, and a very particular man generally as concerned the order and discinot so tall as the skipper, being about five feet ten inches. He had black, curly husband, who was reading the morning hair and whiskers, straight features, was paper, look up from its columns at me well built, etc., with a good-natured look about him that made every body like him that came in contact with him. Still, he was a man that liked to have his orders obeyed, and would enforce them at all hazards. The second mate, Mr. H., was a consequential, big-feeling specimen of humanity. He resembled in looks the captain a good deal, with the exception that he was not so tall,

SIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA

Almost Every Case Cured With PAIN-KILLER

DEAR SIRS:—During a residence of some ten years in Siam and China, as a missionary, I found your Pain-Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the Cholera.

In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a tea-spoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then, after about fifteen minutes, begin to give about a tablespoonful of the same mixture every few minutes until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain-Killer, clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the Cholera, and took the medicine faithfully, in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.

Those using Pain.Killer should strictly observe the following directions:
At the commencement of the disease, take a teaspoonful of Pain.Killer, in sugar and water, and then bathe freely across the stomach and bowels with the Pain-Killer clear. Should the diarrhea and cramp continue, repeat the dose every fifteen minutes. In this way the dreadful scourge may be checked and the patient relieved in the course of a few hours.

N. B.—Be sure and get the genuine article; and it is recommended by those who have used the Pain-Killer for the cholera, that in extreme cases the patient take two (or more) teaspoonfuls instead of one.

The PAIN-KILLER is sold by all the Druggists and Dealers in Family Medicines.

AN OLD BIBLE .- Mrs. H. F. Winchester, of this village, is the owner of a Bible nearly two and a half centuries old, it having been printed in 1629. It was the property of her grandmother, when as Ellen Yarwood she came from England at the age of nine years, and contains a record of the Yarwood family, in which the oldest date is 1725. The book is in an excellent state of preservation, the binding still firm, the ink retaining its color, and the paper, though brown with age, being comparatively little worn. It is interesting to notice the old forms of the letters and a costly volume, and is now a most valnable curiosity.

Democratic County Convention

The Democratic Convention of the county of Oswego met at Mexico, October 4th, 1873, at the Mexico Hotel, at 1 o'clock p. m. The Convention was called man of the County Corresponding Committee who nominated Andrew Hanna, of Volney for President.

Mr. Hanna was unanimously elected Vice Presidents-Vincent H. Burch, O. P. Jennings, Avery Skinner. Secretaries-E. A. Cooke, M. Highriter, T. J. Green.

The following nominations were made County Clerk, Morgan L. Marshall; Supterintendent of the Poor, Ambrose Gregg, of Schrappel; Justice of Sessions, Edwin Potter, of Parish; Coroners, Adelbert Allard, of Oswego, first district; Edgar M. Baker, of Granby, second listrict; Orrin E. Dwight, of Richland, third district; Nelson W. Bates, of Hastings, to fill vacancy.

County Committee—John I. Quacknbush, Vincent H. Burch, David L. Wood , John Harrison, Frank S. Low, E. Delos Burton.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the latform adopted by the Democratic Liberal Republican State Convention at Utica, and pledging support to the canlidates; repudiating and condemning all Congressmen, Democrats and Repubicans, implicated in the "Salary Grab" strongly censuring the political course of Wm. E. Lansing; and affirming the Grant party to be responsible for the evils which have occurred and may result from the late financial crisis.

James Doyle, of Oswego offered the ollowing: Resolved, That as representatives of he Democracy of Oswego county this convention recognizes the able and faithful services of the Hon. G. A. Dayton, for many years chairman of the Democratic County Committee, and that, while regretting his determination to decline re-elec ion to that office, it returns him thanks for the zeal, energy and impartiality with which he has discharged the onerous duties of the position.

THIRD ASSEMBLY DISTRICT CONVENTION. Hugh D. Mellen, of Williamstown, was nominated for Member of Assembly from this District.

Fall Politics.

American politics are getting a painful interest. The endless talk of corruption is wearisome indeed, but the facts behind the talk is appalling. To those who hoped for a decided reform this Fall, there is only disappointment in the two Conventions held within the week at Utica. The one, meeting during the "panic," was spiritless and tame to the last degree. There was no originality, nothing but unamimity. The other Convention was goaded on to a desperate struggle by the failure of its his pastoral relations with this church. party last year. But every delegate was hysician who prescribed and persisted n the remedy of hisown particular school. And so they quarreled.

Capitalists are afraid to invest securities which a "Farmers" government may at any time render valueless. Railroad enterprise is at a standstill and many western laborers are thrown out of employment.

The resolutions are very vague. In comparison with them it would be a pos-itive pleasure to vote with a party whose creed was the multiplication table. The platform might not be so relevant but then one would have the satisfaction of knowing how he was voting. Under the present system the highest duty of citienship is reduced to little more than passive obedience to political demagogues.

That Resignation.

We learn that Rev. L. Muzzy, instead of actually resigning the pastorate, as we stated last week, gave notice that he would resign and close his pastoral labors here as early as the last of December next. He has served this church for eight years and a half, amid trials and embarrassments sufficient to discourage most men. Under his labors the church has been united and hopeful, its numbers have been kept good notwithstanding numerous draw backs, and its standing and religious influence in the community have steadily improved. But the crowning work of these eight years may, peraps, be regarded as the enlarging and remodeling of the old house of worship. And when we consider the weakness of the society, and the lack of confidence

Clerc Memorial.

We learn from Mr. H. W. Syle, Sec retary Clerc National Memorial Union that the Board of Managers have resolved to speedily settle the question of the Clerc Memorial. The following has ever taken place in the State of Illipoints are to be determined upon by the respective associations engaged in the enterprise:

1. What shall the Memorial be? Where shall it be? 3. How much shall it cost?

4. How much can be promised from each society engaged in the enterprise? The above questions and considera tions, it appears to me, ought to be left open for public discussion, inasmuch as every contributor to the object is, to some extent, interested in their decision. All will certainly agree on one point, viz: That the funds ought to be laid out in a manner that will, besides perpetuating the memory of that noble man, Laurent Clerc, at the same time accomplish the most good for all that are interested in building up the Clerc Memorial fund. There are of countried States opinions as to how the runds can be expended to the best advantage. While some of the societies prefer a bust, some a statue, some a monument, &c., there seems to be at least a majority of the mutes who are in favor of erecting a Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf-Mutes. This does not, by any means, imply the idea of building an ordinary alms-house, but a place that shall in every sense of the term be a Home where none of us would be unwilling to pass the last scenes of our earthly existence, should circumstances require it; a home in which we should not shudder to see our best and dearest friends.

I have, for one, been for some time past revolving the subject in my own mind, and weighing one plan against another. The different devices proposed are all worthy of consideration, and each presents some especial advantages which are peculiar to itself. But after comparing the merits of each with those of all the others, I feel fully convinced that no outlay of the funds can be made that would be so befitting the memory and admiration of Laurent Clerc, as a Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf-Mutes. A monument was erected to the memory of the late Thomas H. Gallaudet. which was all very well and right, but why should we duplicate by building funds in building ap such a permanent monument, a bust, statue or something of that sort would be a fine thing to remember Laurent Clerc by if there were needed. While all marble and granite are, at the best, liable to decay, a wellfounded Home once established is in no danger of falling into disuse, or to be abandoned for lack of means to keep it in working order. By thus laying out our funds, we should, in no wise, fall short in our appreciation of the merits of Mr. Clerc, but on the contrary, build to his memory a "monument" that would be permanent, and one that our dear departed Clerc might well rejoice to look down upon from his home in glory. This Home should, of course, be christened "Clerc Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf-Mutes" In founding and building up for ourselves an Institution of this kind, we should prove to the world our wisdom and forethought, and receive the universal plaudits and admiration of mankind. Mr. Gallaudet having been the head centre of deaf-mute instruction, inasmuch as he organized the first school for the deaf and dumb in America, a monument to him was befitting. Mr. Clerc being himself a deaf-mute, it strikes me very forcibly that no disposition of the funds could be made that would tend more to cherish his memory and hand his name down gloriously to future generations, that would be so appropriate to the man and the circumstances as an Institution of this kind. I am well aware that Mr. Clerc expressed a desire that he might be remembered by the erection of a monument for him similar to that of Mr. Gallaudet, still, I am at the same time convinced that could be have looked forward to the present time, his own sound judgment would fully endorse the of abuse. idea of building up a Home for the afflicted of our class and would, above all, have preferred to have his good name perpetuated in the erection of so charitato to bring against Koupponeti. ble an institution. Sept. 13th. The number of pupils in attendance at this date is about the same as last year. Several stay at home, doubtless to enjoy the Autumn harvest of fruit; others, strong hardy fellows, are detained to help on the farm for a few weeks longer, and still others not having finished their preparations for the ten months' term, are busy at work, and waiting the time when they can join their schoolmates. We shall probably be fully organized early in October. Several of our teachers resigned last June, and consequently there are some vacancies to fill, but we have many applications. We have a new supervisor who promises well. The Mansion house, which was formerly the residence of the Principal and which many of our old graduates will remember, has been fitted up to accommodate about half a hundred of the very young boys and as soon as practicable they will be transferred thereto, and will, we presume, be under the care of lady teachers. The Mansion house has been enclosed in a high picket fence, leaving ample space for the little ones to romp and tumble about, and as they will be all by themselves and not too many together, they will doubtless

His disease, hypertrophy of the heart, was borne with singular fortitude and patience for one year. and he seemed loth to trouble his beloved parents about his sufferings: Five weeks previous to his death, he grew worse and needed the doctor's attendance, but such service was futile. One day before his fare well, he told his sister, Mrs. Youngs, of Flatsbush, L. I., that he saw his sister who died five years since, at the age of till more substantial proofs than have three months, beckoning to him to come up to live with her, and sing with the angels in heaven from whence he might look down upon his parents. On Sunday afternoon, the 14th., their rooms were temptible personas he (Mr. Day,) thinks filled to overflowing with their relations and mute friends. Rev. Dr. Gallaudet opened the funeral services. It was a sublime and effective sermon on the Heavenly progress of the Christian dying young. Then the remains were buried in the family lot of his mother's late brother in Trinity Church Cemetery. They have our sympathy in their sad bereavement. Among those present, were Mrs. Dr fallaudet, Mr. Donnelly,s mute brother in-law, Ed. S. Youngs, and Bonaventure and John C. Clarke of Greenpoint, L. I. John looked healthy and hearty on his return from the Rochester Convention. Sylvanus Hewlett and wife, formerly Miss. Christiana Roemer, were also present. They were joined in wedlock by

Rev. John Chamberlain, our Assistant Rector, at the residence of the bride's parents on the 27th ult. They have our best wishes that they may enjoy their matrimonial felicity until the sunset of their life-time.

Mr. Donnelly is one of the best work nen, and was in the iron foundry of the late Geo. R. Jackson & Co., in East 14th St. over fourteen years. ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY MUTES PRE-SENT-GALA DAYS !- GALA TIMES !-A PERFECT SUCCESS-FULL AND AC-CURATE REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS.

(Continued from our last.) Dr. Peet said that he was much intersted in Mr. Green's work, and that were it not for his labors we should soon have no fish in our lakes, a calamity the doctor noped might never occur.

Mr. Steenrod asked Mr. Green what was the largest bass he ever caught: and being informed one of twenty-four pounds was his largest catch, told Mr. Green that he should go to the Ohio river if he wished to see black bass of countless numbers and monstrous size.

Numerous questions about fishes were sked Mr. Green by the Association, and he took great pleasure in answering all inquiries, Dr. Peet and Dr. Gallaudet nterpreting.

A letter was read from Bishop Coxe. regretting his inability, on account of sickness, to be present at the services in St. Luke's church last evening. RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Mr. Alphonso Johnson of the New York Institution offered the following preamble and resolutions which were adopted by the Convention : Whereas, on the 1st of January last, it was the pleasure of Almighty God to emove from among us our friend and benefactor, Harvy Prindle Peet, Ph. D. L. L. D., who was for a period of thirtyseven years the able and efficient Principal of the New York Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb; and whereas, we the members of the Empire State Association of Deaf- 6.00 P. Resolved, That we will ever treasure in our memories his virtues believing that he possessed some of the best qualities of the teacher and principal, rarely if ever surpassed, and not often equaled.

Resolved, That as an Association together, having for its object the pronotion of the intellectual, moral and spiritual welfare of the deaf and dumb. particularly the latter, we have special cause for gratitude to Dr. Peet, who did so much for us.

Resolved. That the members of the Empire State Association for the Deaf and Dumb, desire through this medium to express their heartfelt sympathy and sincere condolence with the family of the deceased in this irreparable calamity, which, in the dispensation of Divine Providence, has been visited upon them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resoluions be transmitted to the widow of the deceased. Also one for publication to American Annals for the Deaf and Dumb, the Deaf-Mute's Journal, the Silent World, the Deaf-Mute Advance, and to Rev. Samuel Smith's Magazine for the Deaf and Dumb, published in London, England.

Dr. Gallaudet gave the Association some good advice about the re-union this evenng and hoped all would have a good
